

There's a hope

Dave Bilbrough

There's a hope that my money cannot buy.
There's a hope that my money cannot buy.
As I fix my gaze on the one who saves.
I find hope that my money cannot buy

I've been tired and so troubled in my mind.
I've been tired and so troubled in my mind
Drained and pressurised by the cares of life
But there's hope that my money cannot buy

There's a peace that my words just can't explain.
It's a peace that no one can take away.
There's ups and downs, and this world shouts loud.
There's a peace that no one can take away

Jesus, Saviour
Guide my path ahead
Keep me focused
On your faithfulness

You're the light that outshines my brightest day
You're the light that outshines my brightest day
When my work is done And my strength is gone
Still your light will outshine my brightest day
